

Design of Steady Sobriety - Typography

Choice and use of fonts

- Since we want our user to feel comfortable and less serious when using the app, So we choose to use sans serif font mostly across the application.
- The only place we used a cursive handwriting font is the welcome message on the homescreen. We use that to create contrast and draw user's attention to our applications.
 - That font is "Euphoria Script"
- Then we used a matching sans serif font for the introduction. This font is also used in other components for introduction/instruction purposes for consistency.
 - The font is "Quicksand"
- This "Euphoria Script"-"Quicksand" is also used in the navbar (former for app name and latter for navigation items)
- Then, in most other parts of the app, the font for regular text is "Quicksand" for better consistency.
- However, a cursive may be too much for titles/main messages of the other parts, so we found another sans serif font that matches with "Quicksand" and used it in these places.
 - The font is
